

Chapter 18. Your Adult Children Estate Plans

Are you now finished? Maybe. Maybe not. You've taken a huge step and accomplished a lot by executing your Basic Estate Plan. You've seen to it that your Estate is preserved for your spouse, children and grandchildren.

But have your young adult children done what they should to preserve their inheritance for their families. Some parents and grandparents give their children or grandchildren as a Birthday, Anniversary or Christmas gift an Estate Plan from their Estate Planning Attorney.

However you choose to handle it, we believe a valuable parental suggestion to your children or grandchildren is they should take care of their own Estates, as you have done for them.
